

Seattle vs San Francisco

- 40% more incidents in Seattle than in San Francisco on Summer 2004

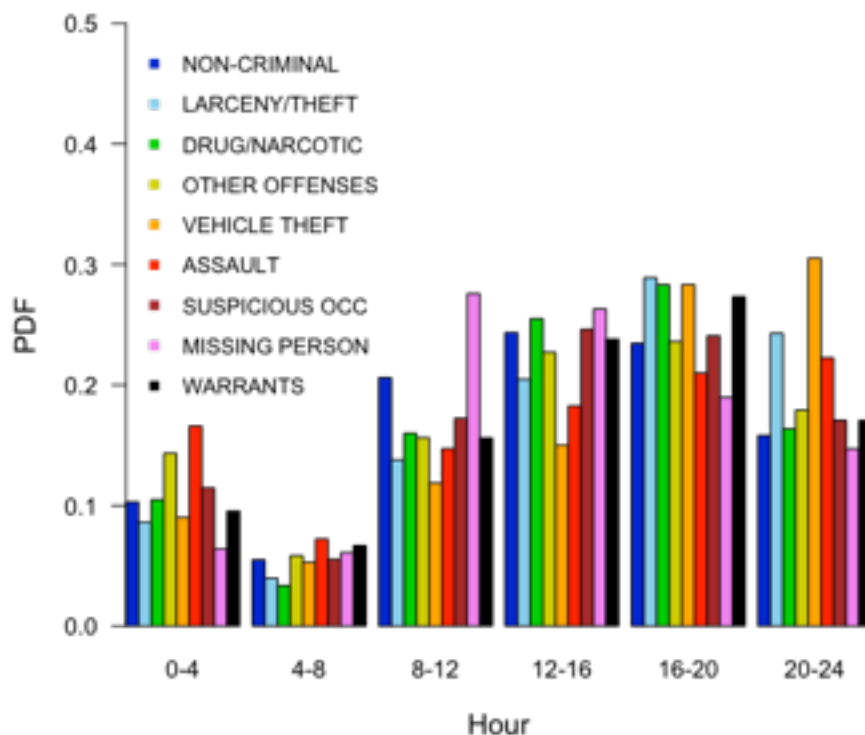

- No significant monthly variation of incident number (~10%)
- Number of incidents drop at small hours (2-6 am)
- 2 hours delay in San Francisco with respect to Seattle

San Francisco

Pie Chart of crime class

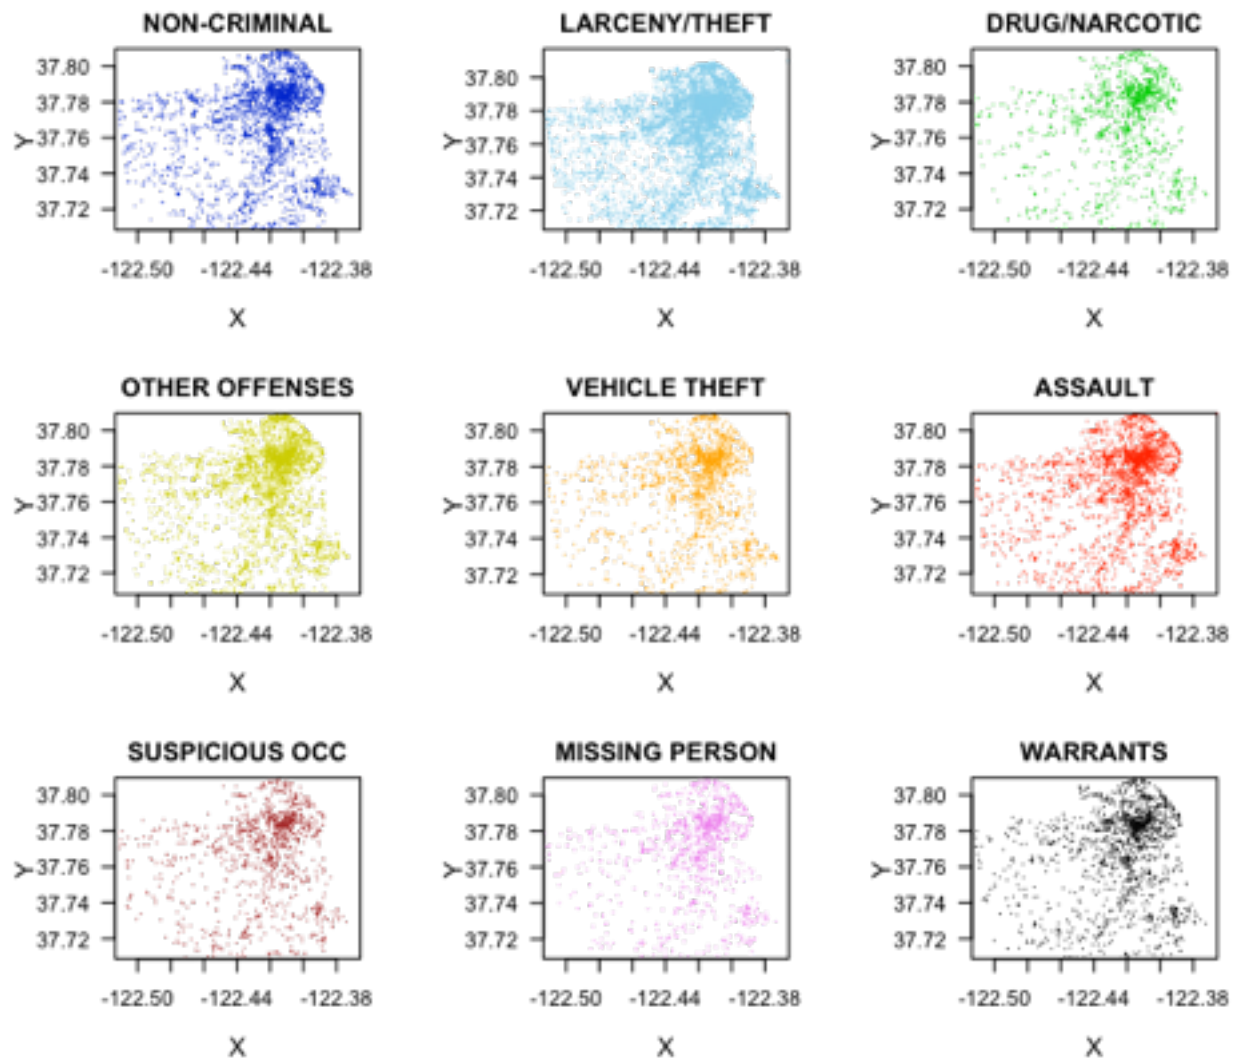

- Focusing on San Francisco, theft is the most frequent incident (32%)
- 9 classes account for 90% of incidents: theft, drugs, vehicle theft, assault, suspicious occurrence, missing person, warrants, non-criminal and other offenses

- Decrease of all incident class in small hours (4-8 am)
- Almost 30% of missing persons are reported in the morning (8-12 am)
- Significant vehicle theft increase at night (20-24)

- No significant weekly variation during the three reported months
- Drug related incidents decrease in last week
- Vehicle theft and assault increase in last week

- All incidents are more frequent in the city centre and big avenues
- No incident report in green areas (e.g. GoldenPark)
- No significant differences among location of different incident classes